Council explores community futures

Executive Director Jean Champagne of the St. Paul - Smoky Lake Community Futures and Project Officer Lawrence Remarchuk of the Employment Development Branch, Employment and Immigration visited Elk Point Town Council Monday night with a presentation on the ways Community Futures might impact and benefit the community.

Champagne told Council that the St. Paul - Smoky Lake Community Futures group is one of 220 in Canada, all of which are funded through Canada Employment and Immigration. The counties of St. Paul and Smoky Lake, Goodfish Reserve and the communities in the three areas all come under the SPSLCF jurisdiction.

Community Futures consists of five basic options: administration, with the role of the board to analyse problems and come up with solutions; the Business Development Centre, which helps area residents to establish or expand small businesses; the Self Employment Option, which offers a subsistence allowance to unemployed persons who wish to become self employed; the Training Option, which facilitates training programs through Employment and Immigration; and Community Initiative Fund, which offers a matching grant for innovative projects which would lead to job creation. All but the fifth of these are under the control of the local board.

Champagne said that the Self Employment Option is "quite successful" in this area, with one person in Elk Point and seven others throughout the SPSLCF area currently involved. The option provides a $200 per week allowance for up to one year to cover basic living expenses while a previously unemployed individual establishes a business. This encourages entrepreneurship by insuring that the individual will have money to live on while he or she is getting the business underway, Champagne said, whereas if the person stayed on unemployment insurance, benefits would be cut off once he or she became self employed.

Community Futures can help by offering human resource support, including expertise and legwork, Champagne said. "Nothing is too big or too small," he noted, saying that CF has done everything from conducting surveys to helping formulate community tourism action plans. "We have a different role to play in every town." However, he cautioned, the program alone will not make things happen. "Community leadership is what makes things work."

Lawrence Remarchuk told Council that Community Futures "has become the flagship of Employment and Immigration," by looking at what each community needs and attempting to solve its problems. The program is "going through an evolution" and taking a new approach, he said. The scope has already moved from labor market adjustment to economic development, through which it "builds a capacity in the community to carry on."

The St. Paul - Smoky Lake area is not only large geographically, Remarchuk said, it has "a lot of history to overcome" before the people can learn to work together. "We are making great strides," he concluded, "Now we need community participation."

Council was then given an opportunity to discuss ways in which Community Futures could assist Elk Point, such as helping to structure a Development Committee. Councillor Lawrence Pidluzny represents the Town of Elk Point on the SPSLCF Board, while Billie Milholland represents the Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the Community Futures presentation, Council had a full and varied agenda for their regular meeting, which took close to four hours to complete.

Costs for the next step in the proposed street upgrading and utility line replacement program were discussed. Steps 2, 3 and 4, which involve closed circuit camera studies of existing utility lines on 51 Avenue, soil testing throughout the program area, and preliminary engineering design including an outline of the project and cost estimates, will cost between $11,000 and $19,000, Council was told. Water, sewer and pavement reserve funds can be utilized for this, and an application under the street improvement program to

Fall Roundup For Toxic Waste

It's roundup time in the ranch country, but instead of livestock, this roundup in Elk Point last Saturday gathered up all kinds of hazardous materials for shipment to Swan Hills. The Toxic Waste Round Up was sponsored by the Elk Point Lioness Club, and Lioness Pam Ballas (right) was on hand to watch thirteen barrels of waste loaded aboard the disposal truck.

Toxic waste rounded up

Elk Point residents responded well to the call by the Elk Point Lioness Club to bring hazardous materials from their households to the Elk Point Fire Hall last Saturday for Elk Point's first-ever Toxic Waste Round Up.

Everything from yard and garden chemicals to unwanted paint to oven cleaner was brought in for disposal, and was sealed into drums for transport to Swan Hills.

A total of thirteen drums of hazardous liquids and solids were collected during the day, said Lioness Club President Jane Mahon. "This morning we had a trailer load of empty drums—now all but two are ready to go on the disposal truck."

This was a far better response than some towns have had, she noted. "One town we heard about had a Toxic Roundup and not a single person showed up. Another town had only one person bring in material." The environmentally conscious group was not daunted by the possibility of a poor turnout, and decided there was a need for such an event in Elk Point.

The Lioness Club was very pleased with the success of the Round Up, and plans to continue the event on an annual basis.

Rec Land Donation

Elk Point Town Council was surprised with a donation from Amoco Canada toward development at the Recreation Land at their Monday night meeting. Ron Johnson of Amoco presented a generous amount toward the ongoing project to Mayor Bruce Kleeberger.

share this cost can be made once the preliminary design step is complete.

Council looked ahead to the festive season, and approved the purchase of 10 additional Christmas street lights, to be hung on Highway 41. An additional nine lights will be put in the 1991 budget, with the future purchase to complete the town's festive decoration needs for years to come.

Need for additional personnel in the Public Works Department over the winter months brought the approval from Council for an application for two positions under the Employment Skills Program offered by Alberta Social Services. The workers under this program are paid by Social Services, and there would be no cost to the Town.

Recent discussions with local real estate agents led to a decision by Council to advertise both developed and undeveloped industrial land in an aggressive marketing campaign covering a wide range of periodicals and newspapers, and including multiple listing service.

Councillor Adele Mandryk is "really impressed by what has taken place so far," since the recent formation of the Bicentennial Celebrations Subcommittee. "Not one person said no" when asked to sit on the committee, and "we got together immediately, and came up with wonderful ideas." Billie Milholland was appointed chairperson of the subcommittee, which has taken as its mandate to inspire the community to celebrate the momentous event with a full year of activities, and to coordinate a calendar of the events which various clubs and groups will present over the year.

"St. Paul is very excited about this, and wants to meet with us regarding possible activities related to the Northeast Alberta Winter Games, which they will host that year," she added.

The subcommittee has already found a fur trader mascot, in the person of Sid Holthe, who they hope will advertise the event in parades up to and including Edmonton Klondike Days, and also plans such promotional tools as a flag contest, a colorful brochure, pins and a scale model of the forts which could go to conventions, conferences, trade shows, etc. to publicize the Bicentennial.

Council assured Councillor Mandryk that seed money for committee expenses will be included in the 1991 budget.

The Community Services Steering Committee is still growing, with the appointment of Chamber of Commerce representative Mark Wilson now ratified, and other appointments by the Lions, Lioness, County of St. Paul and Masonic Lodge expected to be ratified shortly. Committee Chairman, Councillor Louis Verhagen, is working on a preliminary budget, and says it has been proposed that the Committee become a society so that tax deductible receipts can be issued.

The new stretch of sidewalk recently installed by the County of St. Paul along the west side of Elk Point Elementary School is scheduled to double in length in the near future. Council moved to construct the additional 160 feet of sidewalk in the most cost effective manner which can be determined, after it was decided that the construction will make it safer and more convenient for pedestrians.

Mayor Bruce Kleeberger and Administrator Pat Vincent, along with Chamber of Commerce President Millie Orr and representatives from the Hospital, are off to the Health Care Connection this week, with hopes of contacting such needed personnel as an anesthetist and a physiotherapist for the hospital, as well as making contact with additional doctors. An announcement regarding a second new physician is expected to be forthcoming this week, and two other possibilities have also been contacted. Elk Point will have an attractive, seasonally colored display enhanced with floral arrangements, door prize draws and information on the community, Vincent told Council.

A report on the "extremely beneficial" AUMA Convention wound up the meeting, with both Councillor Mandryk and Administrator Vincent well pleased with the new information they had obtained and the contacts they had made during the three day event in Calgary last week. Theme of the Convention was "The Balancing Act," while a secondary theme focused on cooperation between communities.

1990 harvest largely home

Harvest in the Elk Point area is winding down, and most farmers should have all of their grain in the bin before Thanksgiving Day. Sun and brisk winds over the past week made short work of early morning frosts and helped to keep harvest operations on track.

Grain prices are extremely low, but better than expected yields have filled bins and elevators and forced many farmers to resort to making use of temporary storage piles on the ground.

Bumper crops have also been reported in local gardens, and both rural and town residents are busy storing their winter supply of home grown vegetables.

Considering the very dry spring start, 1990 crops have done exceedingly well, giving credibility to the old adage, "Seed in the dust and your bins will bust."

Happy Thanksgiving, everyone!

Playground Fund Kicked Off

Ruby Hanna of Creative Crafts and Design presented Darlene Kozicky of the Elk Point Community Playground Committee with a donation toward construction of new playgrounds at Elk Point Elementary School, which will be needed once the school's expansion program is completed. Mrs. Hanna decided to make the donation instead of buying Halloween candy for trick-or-treaters this year, and Mrs. Kozicky noted that if any other individuals wish to do the same, the Playground Committee would be pleased to hear from them. You may call her at 724-2080. Many thanks to Mrs. Hanna for her generosity, which is truly a way to make your treat a lasting one.

In Our View

Family time

What is a family? Years ago, a family was perceived to be a daddy, who went to work, a mommy who stayed home and kept house, and one or more children, who grew up and had families of their own. Now times have changed.

Of the 615,320 families in Alberta in 1986, 67 percent had children. Of the families with children under 18 years of age, 18 percent were headed by a single parent. Of the 242,000 children in Alberta between the ages of 6 and 12, 37,000 of them were considered to be 'latchkey' children during non-school hours. In 1986, 63 percent of working women were married, while in 1988, 70 percent of all mothers with children under 16 were in the labor force. Forty percent of marriages are now ending in divorce.

Statistics like those have wreaked havoc with family life as it was known a generation ago. Families who spent evenings and weekends together, who worked together, played together, prayed together, stayed together were the norm, but now they are the exception. Some may say that quantity time has been replaced by quality time, but this is true in all too few cases.

Frequently, what time families do find to spend together, once the parent or parents get home from work, make a meal which may or may not be eaten together and do the household chores, is often spent mindlessly staring at the television as exhaustion takes over. Weekends are spent doing even more chores, if parents are fortunate enough not to have to work on weekends. On top of this, the modern lifestyle encourages people of all ages to become involved in organizations, sports and hobbies on an individual basis, which keeps them away from their families even more. Time for doing things as a family is rare indeed.

During National Family Week, October 1 to 7, Alberta Recreation and Parks is encouraging families across the province to take part in leisure activities together. There are many ways to do this, some of which are little or no cost, such as a walk in the woods, a game of Scrabble, an afternoon spent looking through the family album, an evening of constructing homemade costumes for Halloween. Farther afield, a family can, depending on ages, enjoy such sports as swimming, ice skating, bowling, golf or curling, spend weekends camping or fishing in the summer, cross-country or downhill skiing in the winter.

There are many, many ways a family can enjoy their leisure time together—as many ways as there are families. Enjoy your family in your own special way, this week and every week of the year. The memories you make will be treasured forever.

Ready for the Thanksgiving Table!

We can be thankful for the bounty of our gardens, gift of the good earth.

Alberta Trails

More than just the turkey

By Irene Magnusson

Before the next time you read Alberta Trails, Thanksgiving as we know it in Canada, will have come and gone. Will you stuff yourself to the eyeballs with turkey, cranberries, and pumpkin pie, and a few quarts of kickapoo joy juice—and call it a day? Of course, we will enjoy the visits of family and friends that a long weekend makes possible. But truly, Thanksgiving should include more than just a turkey.

Days dedicated to thanking the powers that be have been employed since time immemorial. The ancient Greeks offered tribute to Demeter, goddess of agriculture; the Romans offered praise and sacrifice to Ceres, the goddess of corn (corn being any kind of grain); while the Feast of Tabernacles was an eight day celebration by the Hebrews, in thanks for an abundant harvest.

These old traditions still lived on in the comers to the new world, among the first of these being the 102 Pilgrims, who landed at Plymouth, Mass., after a four month sail in the "Mayflower" across the Atlantic. They had fled from religious persecution, from Holland, arriving December 11, 1620. Following a terrible winter, which saw a shocking forty six of their numbers dead of some plague, a better year came up, with good crops from the seeds they planted, and a bit of help from the local Indians.

This was sufficient cause for them to feel thankful, and to want to show this gratitude. The invited their Indian friends in, cooked up a feast, and had a celebration.

History tells us there were 147 persons at that first Thanksgiving day, in the New World, 56 settlers and 91 Indians.

The food was prepared by four women and two teenage girls—and the celebrations went on for four days. Remember—no microwave, gas or electricity; no dishwasher, garburator or plastic plates. Who said women are weak?

History tells us that, contrary to popular belief, there were very likely no turkeys served, but rather a lot of ducks, geese, lobsters, clams and bass. There was doubtless venison, for the hunters went to the woods and 'harvested.' Cranberries were abundant, for the book I'm delving into says there were fifteen boys, who were sent to the woods to pick them, then the women boiled and mashed them to serve with the venison.

There was pumpkin, boiled, but no pie crust around it, as the Pilgrims had no wheat flour, also no bread, as we know it. There was corn, which they cooked, mashed and fried in the deer fat.

One goodie, which the kids must have liked, was new to them. The Indian chief, Massasoit of the Wampanoag tribe, brought with him several deerskins full of ready-popped Indian corn, which the Indians had enjoyed for ages, but which was new to the Pilgrims.

That first Thanksgiving, in the fall of 1621, was made memorable by a parade of the few soldiers, complete with bugles and musket shot, and led by Captain Miles Standish. Contests of running and jumping between Pilgrims and Indians were followed by target shoots, with bows and arrows, then with muskets.

Suffice it to say, a good time was probably had by all, except possibly the women who had to 'wash up' after.

But the purpose of the celebration was to give thanks to their God, for all that they had found in the new land, their escape from the wild ocean, the illnesses, and the oppressions of the old lands.

Their effort did not establish a general thanksgiving, and famine came in the following year. In fact, anything resembling a national day of thanksgiving was shelved for many moons.

In 1777, a celebration, of sorts, was declared following a victory by the Americans over the British at Saratoga, but was a one-timer only. Later, in 1789, George Washington proclaimed a Day of Thanksgiving, but most felt there was nothing to be thankful for, so it was dropped.

Now we come to the last effort to establish a regular day of thanks in America. In 1827, Sarah Josepha Hale, as editor of several 'ladies' magazines, pushed for a national Thanksgiving day. For forty years, with an endless barrage of letters and articles, she pleaded and promoted a special day, "to offer to God our tribute of joy and gratitude for the blessings of the year."

Late in the Civil War, following the Battle of Gettysburg, a victory despite severe losses, her last article moved President Abe Lincoln to proclaim, on October 3, that Thanksgiving Day would be observed on the last Thursday of November. This time, it took, and was so observed for many years.

One last snag came in 1939, when President F. D. Roosevelt tried to shift it up to the third Thursday, so merchants could have more time to promote Christmas sales. That didn't fly, so, in the United States, since 1941, Thanksgiving Day has been observed on the last Thursday of November, presumably with endless joy and thanks giving.

So, says you, what about Canada? Of course we follow the US lead, whenever we get a chance, but we often add our own little quirks to things, making them truly Canajan.

Our special day has been proclaimed "a day of general Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest with which Canada has been blessed." The idea was based on three traditions: the celebrations of harvest in Europe by peasants, the formal observations by historic characters, and the Pilgrims' celebrations of 1621 in North America.

It sneaked into Nova Scotia in 1750, and was observed in Halifax in 1763.

Declared by Parliament as November 6, it became a general holiday, rather than a religious one. It gradually moved up to October, third Monday, until after World War I, both Thanksgiving and Remembrance Day were observed in the same week.

In 1957, January 1, Thanksgiving Day became the second Monday of October, as it is now. On many years, this is far too early for farmers, who make the harvest we are thankful for, to have time to celebrate. They are far too busy "bringing in the sheaves" to take time for feasting and frolics. This year seems to have hit it about right, with most of the harvest done, and possibly the farmers should take time out to celebrate a little and feel some thanks in their hearts for the good harvest allotted.

Some of the other things we might rejoice over are seeing our kids home for the weekend, from schools and jobs, and be thankful there are schools they can attend—and jobs. We can be thankful (if still true) that we are not hot into World War III. Thankful the mess at Oka is winding down—a change in the daily news.

We can be thankful for any health we have, for the sky of blue, the good garden crops, the colorful flowers of summer, and autumn leaves.

It's not hard to find something to complain about, but just for today, try to find something to be thankful for—and I don't mean just the turkey! (Although that's good, too...)

The Thingamabobber

If you have always wondered what a 'thingamabobber' looked like, here it is! The Elk Point Junior Drama Club and their Family Fun Festival visitors turned themselves into this imaginative piece of machinery last Sunday, as a grand finale to their afternoon of entertaining activities.

Practice For Halloween?

Some weird, wacky and wonderful costumes came out of the Junior Drama Club's boxes of assorted attire at the Fun Festival, as pairs of participants donned strange combinations of clothing and acted out the characters they had created in the "Costume Challenge" portion of the afternoon.

Fun for the whole family

An afternoon of hands-on entertainment sponsored by the Elk Point Junior Drama Club was fun for all ages, from tiny tots to senior citizens, this past Sunday afternoon at the Community Services Centre.

Participants were divided into teams for events ranging from storytelling to impromptu acting, and had a great time throughout the Fun Festival. The first part of the program saw each of four groups handed the first four lines of a story, which each member in turn added to and embellished with exciting details. Drama Club organizer Dee Pankiw told the storytellers that these types of stories can easily be transformed into action and dialogue for play scripts.

Charades acting out the names of various television shows became a team activity in the second part of the afternoon, while the third activity was a Costume Challenge, with pairs of participants rummaging through the Club's costume boxes and donning wild and wonderful costumes, before acting out the characters they portrayed.

Then it was back into four groups for the finale, with each group using a lot of imagination to turn some of themselves into some sort of machine, with the remaining person or persons as the human operator(s). Boys and girls were miraculously turned into a guitar amplifier, somersaulting or rolling automobile wheels, and what we all need—an automatic waking-up machine. To conclude the events, parts of all four "machines" were put together to form one giant fun factory.

Registrations for the Drama Club were taken at the close of the afternoon, and refreshments were enjoyed while everyone wound down from the excitement.

Garage Sale Goodies Galore!

Tables laden with donations of all sorts, the Pioneer Circle opens its doors to early customers, ready for a successful two-day sale.

-- I. Magnusson

Good Days for Pioneer Circle

By Irene Magnusson

It's amazing and always gratifying to see and hear what a concerted volunteer effort can accomplish. Such must be the feelings of the Pioneer Circle Seniors Group, following a two day long 'garage' sale, held at the centre last week.

Under the guidance and enthusiasm of Phyllis Zarowny, the sale, September 20 and 21, netted a whopping $ 654.30 to swell the coffers for the group, in particular the building fund. An additional $ 25.50 was realized from the raffle of an antique lantern, donated by member Paul Stepa and won by Faye Smith. All proceeds were profit, as there were no expenses deducted--unless for a pound of coffee?

The tables were laden with such an assortment of goods and goodies, it would be hard to enumerate them all. There were vegetables and canning and fruit; dishes, ornaments, cookware; tools, pictures, toys. There were articles of clothing, books, and yard goods. In fact, a very wide assortment, and much of it sold. Some articles went back to the basement to await a future sale, when the second day was done, while in a good charitable spirit, leftover knitted articles went to the Hospital Auxiliary canteen, yard goods to the Red Cross, and some clothing to the Next to New Store in St. Paul, where all these articles will be put to good use.

Who were the volunteers who worked so diligently? Of course, they were the members of the Pioneer

Circle, and not ALL women, for a change, as at least one man worked long and hard to help. Thanks were expressed by the leader, Phyllis Zarowny, to ALL who helped in any way, the donors, the arrangers, the sales persons, and those who stuck around to help tidy up, after the sale was over.

There was some appreciation expressed for the 'weather man' who saw to it that the two days were well-nigh perfect, making the outing a pleasure, on this bright autumn day. A very good effort, deserving of the very good results it brought.

Make your place fire safe: Hunt for home hazards

Most fire injuries and deaths occur in the home. Following fire safe habits, knowing about potential hazards and constantly being aware of fire danger can reduce the risks to you and your family. Make hunting for home hazards a regular part of your family's daily activities.

For more information on how to make your home more fire safe contact Alberta Labour Fire Prevention Branch or your local fire department.

THE PROPOSED GST. FIND OUT WHAT'S GOING ON. AND COMING OFF.

Wondering whether your grocery bill will go up? Thinking about how much to save for that new car? Asking if your bank service charge will be taxed? Or, just plain confused? The answer is as close as your phone. Call us, your GST Consumer Information Office. On January 1, 1991, the proposed GST is scheduled to replace the Federal Sales Tax (FST) in the marketplace. To understand what it means... and what it means to you... you need information.

We can give you the facts. Ask us for your free copy of The Consumer's Guide to the GST and Prices. Full of helpful information, it also features a Key List showing how the replacement of FST with GST should affect prices. We're here to help you know what to expect, what to ask and where to turn. Because the more you know, the better you shop. Our lines are open from 3 to 9 p.m. every day. And they're toll-free from anywhere in Canada. For hearing impaired call 1-800-465-7735.

The answer is to call.

Auxiliary ponders methods

By Irene Magnusson

Around a dozen members met for the September 24 meeting of the Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary, second of the season. Following the usual reports and minutes, consideration was given to how the presence of several Volunteers soon to be on the hospital staff could be used to the Auxiliary's purpose, in helping to man the Auxiliary's canteen.

An effort will be made to acquire the services of one student (Volunteer) for a one hour stint in the canteen weekly. This is especially important as some of the regular volunteer staff of Auxilians will be away through the fall, leaving the crew short-handed. The canteen is a small, but regular source of income for the Auxiliary, and a considerable convenience to patients and staff at the hospital. The Auxiliary is anxious to keep the canteen open at regular hours, as often as possible.

Another matter pertaining to the canteen was the advisability of trying to procure and use a 'cart' of some sort, so articles for sale might be readily brought to the wards of the patients. This was discussed at length, the conclusion being that it was not feasible, at this time, as there was no storage place for a cart, and the work of loading and unloading would be a strain.

The desirability of using bingos as fund-raising enterprises was considered, some members agreeing it was a successful method for other charities. Considerable thought was given to this, and a decision will be reached through the winter.

Violet McFadyen and I reported on the Northeast Alberta Regional Auxiliary Conference, at Viking, which we had attended. Wasy Elashuk tentatively offered to attend the annual Auxiliary Convention in Edmonton on our behalf, in late November. A report from the Drayton Valley Auxiliary, which has 39 members, was received, with praise for their fund-raising ability, and congratulations on their enterprise in this respect.

Hughie Krucik had hosted the van load of patients from the Elk Point Extended Care at a summer outing at her home, and remarked how well the wheelchair (purchased by the Auxiliary) worked in the handi-van, and how much it was appreciated by the patients. It is rewarding to have their efforts so appreciated, some Auxiliary members agreed.

The label-saving program was reported on briefly. A cheque has been received, gratefully, and more information handed out as to which labels are acceptable. Adella Jennissen is the member in charge of this fund-raiser.

Several pairs of slippers have been donated by the Pioneer Circle; slippers are always a gratefully received item for the shelves of the canteen, as there is always a demand for these.

No major items were approved for purchase at this time, although there is the very large article still needed, that is beyond the Auxiliary's means at present.

Tray favors for Thanksgiving were decided upon, and the meeting adjourned.

What's news at the library?

This is National Family Week. On display in the library are books on the family. Look for them when you come in.

We recently received a shipment of 35 Large Print books. Included are romance books: The Month Of Gladness by Eileen Barry; The Strength of Love by Sarah Devon; mystery books: Blindman's Buff by Margaret Carr, Your Money and Your Life by George Milner; westerns: To The Death by Robert Bell and Desert of the Damned by Nelson Nye. These are all paperback large print. The ones we already have in our collection are very popular.

NEW BOOKS:

Fall is a wonderful time to put up that much needed fence. The library has the book Wood Fences And Gates by Charles Shelf, which contains plans, designs and the instructions for the construction of fences to enhance your property and keep in the children and pets.

The Mother Tongue: English And How It Got That Way by Bill Bryson-The author has covered the entire history of language, from the first crude murmuring of Neanderthal man thirty thousand years ago to the explosion of English as a global language in this century.

Two new junior "Let's Read-and-Find-Out" science books by Franklin Branley are: What Happened To The Dinosaurs-This book explores various scientific theories regarding the extinction of the dinosaurs; and Hurricane Watch-This book describes the origin and nature of hurricanes and ways of staying safe when threatened by one of these dangerous storms.

The Alberta Trivia Book by Don Blake-Here is the ultimate collection of useful and merely intriguing details about Alberta. A great book for long car rides and rainy day afternoons. This book contains hundreds of entries under sports, weather, history, transportation, parks and much more.

M. D.: Doctors Talk About Themselves by John Pekkanen-In this book, a broad range of physicians tell us about their pressures, doubts, failures and successes.

Many of you have been waiting for Sidney Sheldon's new novel, Memories of Midnight. Sidney Sheldon's The Other Side of Midnight, published in 1974, became a classic of its kind and the most widely read of his many best-selling works. Memories of Midnight is a completely independent novel, but it also continues the saga begun in the earlier favorite.

Two new music cassettes in our music collection are Candi by Candi and Enjoy Yourself by Kyle Minogue.

In Memoriam

BERG, Douglas E.

In loving memory of Douglas E. Berg, July 26, 1928 - October 5, 1979. A heart of gold stopped beating. Hard working hands at rest. God broke our hearts to prove it. He only takes the best. Our hearts still ache with sadness. And silent tears still flow. What it means to lose you. No one will ever know.

So many times we need you Dad, If love could have saved you. You never would have died. What would we give to see you, Dad. And hear your voice and call your name. Sit and talk with you. Be together in the same old way. If tears could build a stairway. If love could build a lane, We'd all go to heaven and bring you home again.

It's a lonely life without you, Dad. And sad has been the way. For life at home is not the same. Since you were called away.

Though destiny's steps may separate us, our hearts shall always beat with remembrance.

Doreen, Lorn and Roxie

ATA welcomes new teachers

The Alberta Teachers Association (ATA) Local 26 welcomed some 20 new teachers to its ranks Friday night. The new educators come from a variety of backgrounds. Some local, some from as far away as Quebec.

Among the newcomers is Katherine McCowan of Elk Point, a second generation teacher whose father, Norman McCowan, teaches at F. G. Miller High School. Ms McCowan is teaching Grade 1 at Elk Point Elementary School. Among the other new inductees who were sworn in to the Alberta Teachers' Association by District Representative Ted Gerlinsky were Angela Friesen, now teaching at F. G. Miller High School, and Sheila Thompson, a new member of the Heinsburg School staff.

The new teachers will be going to nine schools: Elk Point, F.G. Miller, Heinsburg, Mallaig, Poundmaker's, Glen Avon, St. Paul Elementary, Racette, and L'Ecole Francophone De St. Paul.

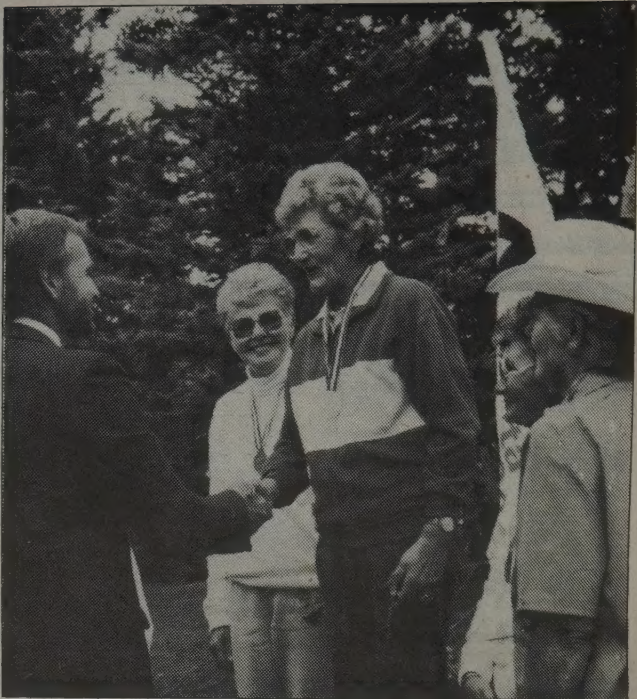

There was one retiree from the union this year - Mr. Hubert Thibault from Mallaig School, while four teachers were mentioned for 25 years service in the ATA: Sylvia Boothman (Elk Point Elementary), Raymond Krankowsky and Marion Tchir (Ashmont Secondary), and Ed Heffner (St. Paul Elementary).

Following the induction ceremony there was a dance with music provided by the band FasTrax.

Longtime OORP Members

In celebration of the OORP 75th Anniversary, the Elk Point OORP Lodge was honored to present the Achievement Awards, at the Saskatoon Convention, to two very active and dedicated ladies who are over the age of 75, Florence McGinnis, Charter Member, and Anne Buck, 24 year member. HRL Mary Kryvenchuk makes the presentation, wishing them continued good health and enjoyment of an active part in the Lodge, with Supreme HRL Doreen Kelly looking on.

Gold Medal Golfer

Alberta Seniors Games winner Pearl Bepalko is shown being presented with the gold medal in Ladies' Golf following her win last August. Congratulations to this very able local sportswoman--Elk Point is proud of your achievements!

STARSCOPE

By Eileen Norby

A very happy Thanksgiving to all of my readers.

The element of fire starts the cycle of the Zodiac with Aries. Fire spreads light, energy, warmth, excitement. So, it follows that people under the fire signs are people of action, sharing, the most dynamic, optimistic, and energetic signs of the Zodiac. Fire signs are impatient, passionate, daring. They have strong wills and hot tempers. They have to take the spotlight and make ideas come to life.

Earth signs follow through, after fire's energetic push, making things happen in the material world. For Earth signs "seeing is believing", so is hearing, touching, smelling, and tasting. These signs are the realists of the Zodiac. They provide sustenance, stability, continuity. They stand for the solid and practical. Earth signs are about how things work. They are sensualists who live in and enjoy the things of the world.

The Air signs are the communicators of the Zodiac. They spread the word. They represent all that is mental, sociable, versatile. These signs help us explore human intelligence: the mental world of ideas and concepts. They are the original thinkers who inspire color, style and beauty. They thrive on discussion, debate, and charm.

The Water signs live in a world of feelings. Water is the element of emotions and compassion; here are the imaginative, intuitive thinkers, the poets and artists of the Zodiac. These are the nonverbal communicators who have uncanny perceptions. They are the sensitive mystics of the Zodiac.

The four elements: fire, earth, air, and water, which the ancients believed made up everything and everybody throughout the twelve signs of the Zodiac.

ARIES

Mar. 21 - Apr. 19

Be brave enough to say what you feel. This could be a new way to communicate for you. You want to be prosperous, but turn down any project that smells fishy. Timing is very important. A "me first" attitude will help obtain what you're trying to do. Work on sensitivity to others.

TAURUS

Apr. 20 - May 20

Don't turn into a petty tyrant at home because your job is so stressful. You may want to hide under the covers when you have a difficult day to face, but, you're strong! Don't take it all personally; just chalk it all up to experience. Getting along is so much more pleasant than staying angry; easier, too!

GEMINI

May 21 - Jun. 20

It may be time to take a good look at your goals. Is inner peace possible? Don't invite conflict into your life.

There are some things you can change and some that you can't. Let the dust settle. Appreciate your individuality. You feel an intensity of emotion for your mate.

CANCER

Jun. 22 - Jul. 22

You can't always handle all of life's problems by yourself, so consider turning them over today to the form of divinity or higher power that means the most to you. Try to express your feelings in writing, painting, music or dance. It's easy to assign blame, but if you look at things honestly, you have a lot of choices.

LEO

Jul. 23 - Aug. 22

Take time to be by yourself to clear your mind if it's possible. Look into motivations and other psychological matters when things have calmed down. A cash flow problem may make it impossible for you to go ahead. Believe it or not, conversation is a good alternative. Stand tall.

VIRGO

Aug. 23 - Sept. 22

A crisis in the family circle may disrupt any plans you made for today. Don't resent the fact that others need you; instead, be proud of their love and trust. True happiness does not come from material possessions, but try to tell that to a teenager! Welcome to the real world!

LIBRA

Sept. 23 - Oct. 23

Everything must be in balance for you. You are a mover and a maker of events. A minor setback is misinterpreted as a disaster. Balance thoughts of unhappiness. Enjoy the slow morning pace. Reinforce spiritual values, attend a church of your choice. Go for it!

SCORPIO

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

Don't let anyone step on your toes. Stand your ground. You have a physical attraction that's very strong. Focus on a happy event ahead. Eat sensibly. There is a person "pulling strings". Sharpen your sense of style. Lucky number is eight. You are caught between a rock and a hard place.

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 22 - Dec. 21

Guard your reputation since a good name means more than anything else. Yours is not one of the most frivolous signs of the zodiac. You like fun but there is a very serious side to your personality. You do need to relax more with fun and games. Enjoy your friends.

CAPRICORN

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

The sign of the goat is usually healthy. It's your emotional health you have to be concerned with. You have to take some kind of risk now and again if you're going to get ahead in your job. Don't do anything to leave you jobless, though. Treat mate with dignity.

AQUARIUS

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

Keep smiling; I'm sure you have been told that a thousand times. Are those promises largely talk? Don't be impulsive, daring or too friendly. Look before you leap. Forget your pressures, you have a golden, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to produce a new life. Meet the challenge ahead in a positive manner.

PISCES

Feb. 20 - Mar. 20

A soft answer turns away wrath. Don't stay in the shadow, stay outside the circle. You may be a little bashful but keep those groups near you, linking arms, so to speak. You need people. Keep a pad and pencil near to write down plans and thoughts. Prepare for the approaching holiday. Throw caution to the wind and have fun. Focus on home-base.

dangerous weapon

Deep Tillage can make you a more efficient farmer. But if you come in contact with facilities buried beneath your fields, it can mean deep trouble. Remember, a good portion of Alberta's countless miles of underground cables and pipeline are buried in rural areas — possibly under your property.

Please, before you use deep tilling equipment, even though warning signs are posted, call Alberta 1st Call at 1-800-242-3447. One Call could save your life!

Books For Writers

Elk Point Librarian Doreen Mayner and Ruthless Writers (from right) Irene Magnusson, Sherry Pelech, Billie Milholland, Sheila Thompson and Vicki Brooker are enthused with the newly arrived shipment of books for those interested in the craft of creative writing. The books were purchased with a grant from the Alberta Foundation For The Literary Arts, and are sure to be a much used part of the Library's ever-growing collection.

Applications now being accepted for 1991 forum for young Albertans

The Forum for Young Albertans is now accepting applications for a week-long program which provides high school students with an opportunity to learn about the structures and decision-making processes of both the municipal and provincial levels of government. During March and May of 1991 the Forum for Young Albertans will bring high school students from across the province together in Edmonton for a week of classes, debates, tours and recreational activities.

The Forum's activities include: a meeting and photo session with the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, tours of the Legislative Assembly, a class with the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly on the floor of the Assembly, a meeting with Justices of the Court of Queen's Bench of Alberta and an opportunity to watch a trial, a mock city council meeting and a model parliament with students playing the roles of politicians, dinner with members of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta, and lectures and discussion groups on various political issues.

The student will also have the opportunity to take a bus tour of Edmonton which will include the Museum, Space Science Center, Government House, and West Edmonton Mall. Among the other recreational activities will be barbecues and a formal closing banquet and dance.

Now in its twelfth year of operation, the Forum for Young Albertans is a non-profit organization which operates completely independently of any political party or group. The program was developed by university professors, high school teachers and Forum staff.

Students in good standing attending senior high schools anywhere in the province are eligible to participate. Students may apply through their school principal or directly to the Forum Selection Committee: Box 534, 918-16 Avenue N.W., Calgary, Alberta; T2M 0K3. For more information call Blair Stolz at (403) 281-8954 or Fax (403) 281-1465.
